

QUALITY IMPROVEMENT NETWORK - 20 OCT 2022

UPDATE

ISSUE 1

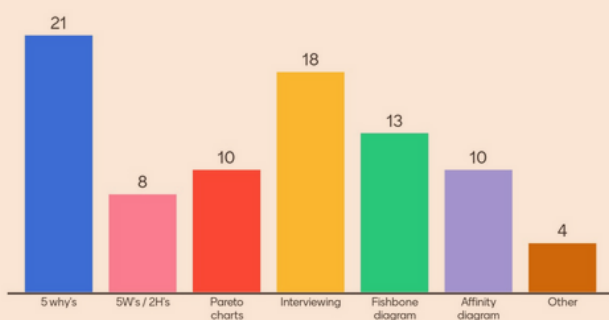

20 October saw the 3rd of our system Quality Improvement Networks take place. This event is hosted by partners across both ICS's and provided an opportunity for those interested in improving our health and care services through proven Quality Improvement (QI) methodology to get together to learn, share, improve and connect.

Learning Topic - Root Cause Analysis

Our topics for each Network are always steered by our members and this time they opted to have a focussed learning slot on 'Root Cause Analysis', to explore the many QI tools and share our 'top tips' for success.

We had a plenty of interaction, participation and contribution from our members and enjoyed hearing about what root cause analysis tools had been used by colleagues, with the outputs of this conversations captured below:

Benefits To Our Members - Tools, resources & training

As part of our commitment to members, each Network aims to share tools, resources and training opportunities. Our October Network provided members with access to:

- our Shared Purpose - developed as a live document for ongoing improvement
- our presentation from the event - for recap and wider share and spread opportunities
- Fishbone diagram tools to support root cause analysis - courtesy of QSIR at NHS England
- video recording of the Network
- for QI training opportunities available, email I systemCQI@mpft.nhs.uk

Our Next Network Event - 19th January 2023 @ 1.00pm - 2.30pm

This is an online Zoom event. It is hoped that this later time slot will give our primary care colleagues more opportunity to join this fast-growing Network. We will continue to take suggestions on timings for these Networks to ensure we create opportunities for all sectors.

We will be in touch with members very soon with invitations link and more details on the topic for the session.
